

Walk #2

Whalebone Parks

GaLTT's Great Winter Walkabout

What to expect

Approx time: 50 minutes

Approx distance: 2.5 km return

Difficulty: trail is flat and easy with a small hill on Pequod Crescent.

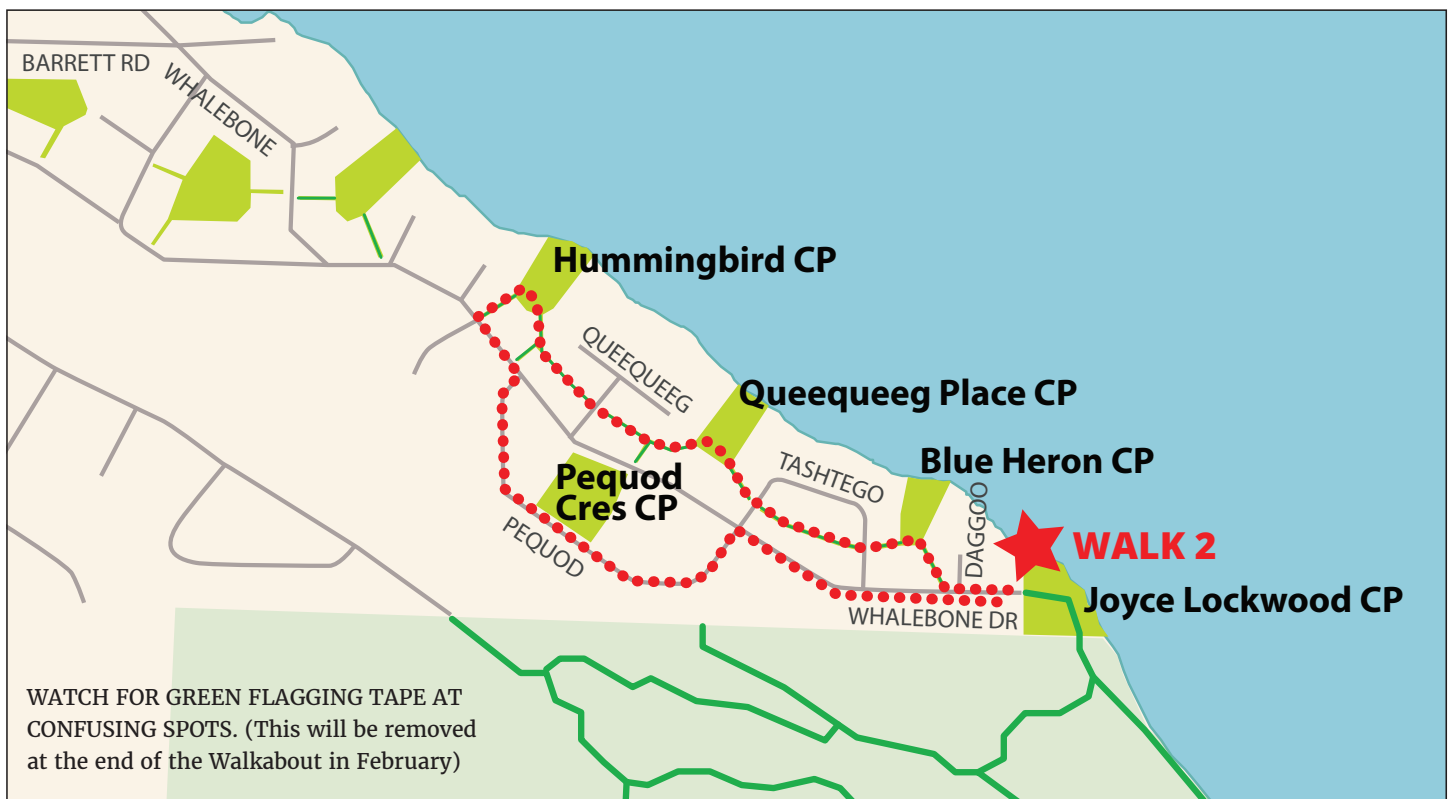

Begin: east end of Whalebone Drive

Explore three community parks along the coast in the Whalebone neighbourhood. Have a winter picnic and go down to the beach if the tide is right. Loop back along a quiet road.

For a longer walk, follow the trail off the eastern bend on Pequod and use your GaLTT trail map to do a loop in the federal lands to Joyce Lockwood Community Park where you began.

Directions

Enter the path to Blue Heron community park near the intersection of Daggoo Place and Whalebone. Enjoy the view over to the Sunshine Coast before exiting the park heading west and past the 'fence gallery'. Cross the road, over the bridge, along the trail and out to Tashtego. Enter the trail to Queequeg Place Community Park and check out the beach access for future summer picnics. Leave the park on the gravel path and cross the road to Hummingbird Community Park with its beach access and picnic table. The trail leaving the park comes out on Whalebone drive where a left turn will bring you to Pequod Crescent. Turn right and follow the quiet road back to Whalebone and your starting point.
